

Lean Manufacturing Manager

What you will be doing?

- Establish and nurture a Lean Culture, ensuring productivity gains and waste reduction for GPV's optimal cost positioning and growth.
- Implement methodologies of operational excellence across GPV, thus driving continuous improvements in productivity, quality, efficiency, and safety.
- As a Lean Manufacturing Manager, you will be expected to have comprehensive knowledge of Lean tools/methods, Six Sigma, and descriptive statistics to lead and manage projects effectively.
- Lead transformational initiatives, implement best practices, and set up a GPV Standard to boost factory performance.

What we offer you?

- Constant learning opportunities, interesting challenges, and chance for specific value-add to the business.
- Become a pivotal part in establishing GPV's position in the market through Lean methodologies.
- Empowerment to drive changes, opportunities to mentor and train the next WCM experts, and ownership of Lean-related performance metrics.
- Impact GPV's growth by taking ownership of Lean-related performance metrics and building bench strength.

We invite you to apply if

- Passionate about Lean methodologies, continuous improvement, and operational excellence.
- Expertise in Lean manufacturing, Six Sigma, kaizen, and the ability to lead workshops and train WCM experts.
- Leadership, strong analytical skills, collaborative mindset, and a focus on long-term sustainability and efficiency.
- As a Lean Manufacturing Manager, you will be leading from the front, driving change, and ensuring GPV's growth through Lean methodologies.
